

RIM Starts Official BlackBerry Blog

Written by Christopher Meinck
Friday, 01 May 2009 00:00

---

RIM is the latest company starting an official blog , but this one is bit a different. Insider BlackBerry is aimed at helping BlackBerry owners get the most from their devices. They've assembled a group of smartphone experts, each focused on a particular area related to using a BlackBerry.

The official BlackBerry blog will cover social apps, instant messaging, email and desktop software. They expect to add new experts along the way and promise dialogue with customers through their comments area.

You will not get the juicy rumors from Inside BlackBerry, but this is certainly a good step towards helping the greater BlackBerry community learn more about their devices.

```
tweetmeme_url =
'http://www.everythingberry.com/articles/2009/5/1/rim-starts-official-blackberry-blog/';
```